Role title	HSES Biodiversity Lead
Location	Singapore with frequent travel
Reporting to	Director of HSES
Position type	Full time
Closing Date	30 September 2021

About the role

Health, Safety, Environmental and Social (HSES) management is a strategic priority for PIDG. PIDG is seeking to strengthen its HSES team through the recruitment of an HSES Biodiversity Lead to further enhance its capacity to meet growing business needs.

Biodiversity protection and enhancement has been a focus area for PIDG and its owners in 2021 and in line with new international legislation and emerging best practice this area is going to become more important in the years ahead. Understanding and managing biodiversity risks and the interactions with project development is fundamental to the success of delivering on PIDGs core business commitments.

While the HSES systems focus on identifying and managing the risk of negative impacts, PIDG Sustainable Development Impact team and systems focus on identifying, driving, and demonstrating positive impacts on people, planet, wider economy, and market transformation. The HSES team works closely with the SDI team on investment appraisal, approval, and monitoring, including on climate and gender lens investing.

Although working full time within the PIDG HSES centre, the Biodiversity Lead will have an important role in working to support and influence PIDG companies on a collaborative approach to biodiversity risk management within their dedicated region and informing wider work on delivering sustainable development impact through nature-based solutions investing. With the main aim to ensure alignment to the group strategic and culture understandings across company portfolios, a one integrative HSES process.

Based out of the PIDG Asia regional office in Singapore and working with the HSES Director with a coordinating and capacity development line into the PIDG companies, and maintaining a close, collaborative working relationship with the PIDG company HSES Teams. Regular travel will be expected between the offices and portfolio project sites.

Applicants must be permitted to work legally in Singapore, as PIDG does not currently support visa or work permit application.
